CHAPTER II.

LAND ADMINISTRATION.

Revenue.

15. For revenue purposes the Chiefship is divided into two Parganahs, which are subdivided into the following Tahsils :—

PHULIA PARGANAH	{ ... {	1. Shahpura.
		2. Phulia
		3. Naharsagar.
KACHHOLA PARGANAH	{ ... {	1. Kachhola.
		2. Ulela
		3. Redwas.

In Parganah Phulia the Tahsil of Dhikola was abolished and a part of it was incorporated into Shahpura Tahsil.

Each of the above Tahsils is under the charge of a Tahsildar, who in Parganah Phulia is directly subordinate to the Musahib Mal, and in Parganah Kachhola to the Kamdar of Kachhola as well as to Revenue Musahib.

16. There are 218 villages in the Chiefship, of which 68 are jagir and 18 udak (charitable grant). The mode of land revenue collection has hitherto been 'Latai' or 'Kuntai' of all the crops generally, except cotton and maize in kharif, for which cash rent is realised. Past experience has shown that both these systems of revenue collection are defective, in so far as accuracy in appraisalment cannot be achieved under the present arrangement, hence the system known as the variable cash assessment, with suitable provision for remission of rents in case crops fail altogether, is being adopted experimentally.

System of Revenue Collection

The local Mutsaddis and candidates who were trained for this survey work have surveyed 24 villages

17. The total area cultivated during the year was 72,752 bighas, equal to 45,470 acres, as compared with 83,331 bighas, equal to 52,082 acres, during the previous year.

Area under Cultivation.

18. The State financial year of 1916-17 opened with gloomy prospects, due to abnormal rainfall, and although all the tanks in the Chiefship were filled and percolation in wells had increased, the Kharif crops were seriously damaged, and as the manure was led away on account of continuous falls of rain the outturn of Rabi was below normal. In pastures grass was abundant.

Condition of the Kharif and Rabi Crops

19. During the year under report no Taqavi was advanced.

Taqavi
Advances.

20. Revenue free grants of five bighas (irrigated land) were given to each of the 19 local recruits who joined the British arms. 20 servants of the Chiefship were granted Jagir lands in recognition of their good services.

the Land.

At the request of the Jagirdar of Rakshi his village was exchanged by the Khalsa Village of Taswaria in the Dhikola Tehsil
